Employment Screening

Employment Screening

Employment verification's should be conducted on all new hires. A candidate's qualifications, experience and job history can be provided by past employers and verified by AFMhirecheck.

- Salary
- Titles
- Duties
- Reasons for leaving
- Rehire status

Education Verification

- Diplomas & degrees are investigated for a variety of reasons.
- Many positions require a certain level of education. Processing education history background checks will ensure that an applicant's listed information is true and correct.
- Our educational verification is used to verify colleges attended, duration of attendance, and if the applicant was issued a degree or diploma.

Employer/Reference Verification

Checking references is a time consuming component in the hiring process, however it is critical. Let the professionals at AFMhirecheck verify the information presented by your applicants — degrees, certifications, employment histories and more — so that your hiring team considers only the most qualified candidates.

Skills Verification

- For some specific positions we conduct skills test to find out if the candidate can do the work.
- Our atworkadvice.com partners have provided us with skills test for administrative workers, programmers, network engineers etc.

Blood Screening

- For Drugs and Alcohol
- Aids
- Hepatitis
- etc
